Wells International School maintains the high standards of the largest international schools in Thailand, but retains the atmosphere and culture of smaller schools.

Students at Wells benefit from :

- An intensive, university-preparatory curriculum based on American standards and focused on experiential learning and real-life application
- A wide range of academic support, including TOEFL prep, PSAT and SAT prep; university and career counseling; academic support clubs; and internship and job shadow opportunities at major universities and organizations
- Access to individualized instruction from highly trained staff who are passionate about education and learning
- A vibrant school community that is dedicated to changing its members and the world for the better.

“ I have to say that if a measure of a school is its students and teachers, then Wells measures as a giant...I have never seen in either public or private education such a group of dedicated, hard-working teachers.”
