Community

The Wells International School System encompasses several campuses spanning mid- to upper-Sukhumvit Road and Srinakarin – two of the busiest thoroughfares in Bangkok, Thailand. Since 2023, Wells International School has also established the Chonburi Campus, outside of Bangkok. Due to the central locations of its campuses, as well as easy accessibility through public transportation, it serves students from all areas of the city. The system includes one kindergarten (Nursery – K3), one kindergarten and lower primary campus (Nursery – G2), and two primary and secondary campus (G1 – G12). Approximately 40% of the total student population is Thai; Korean and Indian students also represent significant populations.

School

Wells International School – On Nut offers an American-based curriculum to students from Grades 1 to 12. Wells – On Nut first opened in 2006 and has continually expanded in both facilities and student body until seeing off its first graduating class in 2010. It currently serves approximately 485 total students, 140 of whom are enrolled in the high school. Wells International School is licensed by the Thai Ministry of Education, accredited through the Western Association of Schools and Colleges and is a member of the International Schools Association of Thailand. Since August 2013, Wells International School started offering the IB Diploma program for members of the class of 2015 who wanted to take part in a rigorous university preparation curriculum. Moreover, in 2017, Wells International School was approved to offer the AP Capstone program, creating further opportunities for students.

Curriculum & Grading

Wells' academic program is based on the American curriculum, modified to take into account major regional and philosophical differences, and to adhere to Thai Ministry of Education regulations governing international schools. It operates according to a modified block schedule, consisting of four 85-minute courses per day at the secondary level on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. The Monday schedule consists of eight 45-minute periods. Students typically take 7 to 8 credits per year of the required core subjects—language arts, mathematics, science and social studies—and of non-core courses such as physical education, ICT, visual and performing arts, and various other electives.

Wells International School

Advanced Placement (AP) courses currently offered on-site include:

AP Biology, AP Pre-Calculus and Trigonometry, AP Calculus, AP World History, AP English Language and Composition, AP Computer Science Principles, AP Statistics, AP Environmental Science, AP Physics, AP Microeconomics, AP Seminar, and AP Research

Additionally, students are able to take a variety of additional AP courses through the APEX or University of Nebraska High School online system. AP at Wells is an open-enrollment program, and AP-preparatory material is included in most core subjects. All AP courses are weighted by one point in the calculation of GPAs.

The International Baccalaureate Diploma Program (IBDP) is offered to grade 11 (since 2013) students who would like to challenge themselves academically. Students are also able to pursue separate IB Certificates if they do not wish to complete the full IBDP. All IB Higher Level courses are weighted by one point in the calculation of GPAs. Some courses utilize combined differentiated teaching depending on student interest to take either the SL or HL exams. The courses Wells aims to offer every year depending on demand are as follows:
