General Guidelines for Future Pathways after High School

Certain future pathways may have course requirements while others may not. Use the examples of future pathways below to help you in making your course selections.

Examples:

- Medicine – In most cases, it is recommended that you have Chemistry and Biology at the IB Higher Level (HL) for places such as UK and several others
- Engineering – In most cases, it is recommended that you have Physics HL and Math AA HL
- Humanities – you could focus on HLs being English LangLit and other Social Studies subjects at the IB Higher Level (HL)
- Business and Economics related– In most cases, it is recommended while that a requirement that you have Business Management and Economics at the IB Higher Level (HL)
- Math requirements - be aware that when using your IB Diploma for university entrance, make sure you meet the math requirement, Math SL AI may not meet the requirements of some universities, or some majors related to sciences and possibly business
- If studying in the US and Thailand – you have more flexibility but should select the courses you would enjoy that matches the future program you might want to study while checking individual university requirements
